TERRIFIED ON TWO WHEELS

Mum's road death highlights cyclists' call for safety action

"MY FAMILY will not be the last to have this kind of tragedy" – the words of Dan Nguyen, whose partner Nga Diep, pictured, was crushed to death by a lorry as the mum-of-two cycled to work.

By ROBERT DEX and VIVIENNE RAPER

Mr Nguyen was speaking as campaigners Southwark Cyclists demanded a meeting with London Mayor Boris Johnson to improve road safety for pushbikes.

One of their demands is for lorries in the capital to fit safety mirrors so they can see into their blind spots.

It comes as Transport for London launches its new cycling safety campaign.
